“Planting a church in Las Vegas is the ultimate irony. Jesus in Vegas? Yes! That’s why Kensington is partnering with Vince and Jen Antonucci, because we know that a fresh revelation of Jesus will be the result of their church plant. Vince and Jen are regular, real followers of Christ and they have gathered a solid team that is committed to Him, to one another and to the people of Vegas. We believe there is no darkness that the Kingdom of Light can not penetrate in the lives of people individually and those gathered in cities. Another light is about to be turn on in Las Vegas and we can’t wait to see what it reveals.”

- Nick Boring, Director of Church Planting for Kensington Community Church & Catalyst, Vision 360 U.S.

“Although it is a city that shines so bright you can see from miles away, Las Vegas is an extremely dark city. Vince is a guy with a heart and passion for the lost and is not afraid to head to the darkest of places. Las Vegas get ready!

- Craig Gross, Founder of xxxchurch.com

“Las Vegas...The fastest growing city in America. Home to the world’s largest hotels and entertainment’s biggest stars. Home to never ending neon lights, incredible shows, glitz, glamour, and greed. Home to the loosest slots, and daily Elvis sightings. And home to thousands of empty, broken, and lost people. If there has ever been a city that needs the hope of Christ, it is Las Vegas. God has given Vince a heart and a vision for this city. We need his vision here, and we are excited about partnering with him to make it happen.”

- Shane Philip, Sr. Pastor, The Crossing, Las Vegas

“I am thrilled to hear that Las Vegas is about to encounter Vince Antonucci! It's quite a city, but if there's anyone who can make it happen, it's Vince. His authentic passion and love for people who are far from God is exactly what this city needs. I can't wait to see what God is going to do!”

I have trained more church planting teams than I can count and, unreservedly, I know Vince will do a GREAT job. Not only does he have a phenomenal and proven record of reaching lost people, Vince is one of the few people I could ever envision planting a church in Los Vegas and changing the worlds of thousands because of it.”

You should give prayerful consideration to becoming Vince’s financial Gospel partner. Your financial investment will reap eternal dividends.”

“At ELI our passion is to see people far away from God experience grace and truth in a life transforming way. Vince is an effective leader who share this passion and has helped us train leaders and plant churches. We are excited about the opportunity we now have to help him plant a life transforming church on the Las Vegas Strip – there is no one better prepared to start this much needed church!”

- Craig Whitney, Director of the Emerging Leadership Initiative (E.L.I.)

“Vince Antonucci’s vision to plant a church on the strip in Las Vegas is brilliant—and overwhelmingly intimidating! Those who are far from God abound there. They are broken, confused, pretending, and lost. Exactly where Jesus would be in our day in time. The prophetic voice that Vince brings to church planting is undeniably unique. His passion for lost people, quick wit and winsome personality, and an apparently insatiable energy will translate into “if he can’t do it, nobody can!” Vince and Jennifer have been through one church plant—very successfully—and affirmed to do it again in Las Vegas. All who know them have commented something along the lines of “that’s perfect” when they hear of God’s call on their lives.

- Brent Foulke, Director of Exponential 2009, the National New Church Conference
& Director of Special Services, Stadia East
& Core Assessor, CPAC

“I’m constantly involved in recruiting new church planters for our work in New York City and the Northeast. We regularly encounter three kinds of candidates: those who have no business attempting to start a church; those who can be successful in the right place under the right circumstances; and those very rare people who will influence large numbers of lost people in any place under any circumstances. If anyone can convince people broken people on the Strip that God loves them, Vince can.”

- Brent Storms, Director of The Orchard Group

“If there was ever a place that needs to tangibly experience the Grace and Love of Christ it is the Strip in Las Vegas. I believe that God has been preparing Vince to bring that Grace and Love for awhile now. His experience as the founder and lead pastor of Forefront Church in Virginia Beach has given him a heart and passion to build a church to reach those that many have forgotten along the Strip in Vegas.”

– Justin Moxley, Executive Director, The Heartland Project
